ALBERTA CONCUSSION AWARENESS DAY
SEPTEMBER 25, 2024

Adapted with Permission from BCIPRU Concussion Awareness Toolkit

SUMMARY

The Alberta Concussion Awareness Day will take place on September 25, 2024. This toolkit provides essential information, tools, and resources to help raise concussion awareness among Albertans.

ABOUT

The Alberta Concussion Awareness Day was established to increase understanding of concussions by offering credible, evidence-based information and resources. This day is for all Albertans, regardless of their involvement in sports, recreation, or physical activities. It's also a day to emphasize that concussions can happen anywhere, at any time, and to anyone, not just in sports. Each year the Alberta Concussion Awareness Day takes place on the last Wednesday of September, which falls within National Concussion Awareness Week. For many people, this day will come and go like any other. But for those who have had a concussion or know of someone who has had a concussion, they may wonder why every day isn't a concussion awareness day.

WHY CONCUSSION AWARENESS MATTERS

Concussions are a serious public health issue that can affect anyone, anywhere, at any time. Often referred to as an “invisible injury,” concussions don't show up on common diagnostic tests like x-rays or CT scans. Symptoms can vary widely from person to person, including headaches, nausea, balance problems, sensitivity to light or noise, and cognitive difficulties. This variability in symptoms is why healthcare professionals often say, “if you've seen one concussion, you've seen one concussion.”

Raising awareness about concussions is crucial because early recognition and proper management can greatly improve recovery outcomes. The Alberta Concussion Awareness Day is committed to helping all Albertans understand how vital it is to recognize and respond to concussions promptly.

This day is about fostering a culture of concussion awareness in Alberta—whether at home, work, school, or play, everyone should be equipped with the knowledge to identify and manage concussions effectively. By spreading this awareness, we enhance the overall health and well-being of our communities.

LEARN HOW TO RECOGNIZE AND RESPOND – CONCUSSIONS CAN HAPPEN TO ANYONE!

OBJECTIVES

- Raise awareness about the prevalence, seriousness, and impact of concussions.
- Enhance Albertans' knowledge of concussion recognition, diagnosis, treatment, management, and prevention.
- Provide credible, evidence-based information and resources on concussions.

WHO IS THIS TOOLKIT FOR?

This document is for public health professionals, advocacy organizations, academics, and communications departments who are interested in and passionate about improving concussion education and awareness in Alberta.

SHARE YOUR CONCUSSION EXPERIENCE GUIDE

We believe that every journey through a concussion is unique and significant. As part of the Alberta Concussion Awareness Day campaign on September 25, 2024, we invite you to share your personal concussion experience or that of a loved one.

Whether you've experienced a concussion firsthand or supported someone who has, your story—including the challenges faced, lessons learned, and milestones achieved—is invaluable. By sharing these experiences, you contribute to a collective understanding that helps raise awareness about the impact and prevalence of concussions.

How to Get Involved:

- Reflect on your concussion journey or that of someone you know.
- Share it on social media.
- Tag us and use the hashtags to join the conversation and spread the word.

Together, let's walk this journey and shine a light on concussion awareness. By sharing, you're contributing to a stronger, more informed Alberta community.
